CLOW Gospel Reflection

Reflection: Today we celebrate the Sixth Sunday of Ordinary Time. In the Gospel, we hear of the importance of being peaceful and forgiving. Jesus wants us to be peaceful people – loving and forgiving each other. Being peaceful can be challenging, especially if we become angry with our family members, friends, coworkers. Even so, we must do our very best to make up with them. All of us are God's children and we are all part of a global family. Being peaceful means we are able to see each other as part of a larger family – we are all, in some way, connected to each other. When we are able to see each other in this way, we not only grow closer together, but we grow closer to God.
